Yalumba Winery- Voted Winery of the Year in 2008 by Restaurant Wine Magazine.

Yalumba is Australia's oldest family owned and operated winery.

Yalumba wines have a style all of their own and each have been influenced by a diverse range of elements. Elements Yalumba likes to call 'the controllables', such as the Yalumba Vine Nursery an on-site cooperage – as well as other factors that cannot be emulated by any other winery are the winery's strengths. Yalumba's history and tradition combined with a reputation for innovation. The company motto is "doing the little things brilliantly" which is definitely reflected in the wines.

'Our driving emotion is a responsibility to leave a legacy and a desire to make a difference'
 ROBERT HILL SMITH - Fifth generation Yalumba proprietor

Yalumba wines are currently on Family Card Special (20% OFF everyday price).

Seven Daughters Winemaker's Blend – on sale $10.99

“Today’s wine consumers are curious and engaged. They are interested in learning more about grape varietals, the process involved in winemaking, the aromas and flavors that result from blending wines, and now, they want to know what’s next,” said William Terlato, President and CEO of Terlato Wines International. “We created Seven Daughters Winemaker’s Blends to provide wine drinkers with a way to experience the art of blending, in a unique package that balances sophistication with fun.” Seven Daughters White Winemaker’s Blend is composed of seven distinct varietals including Riesling, Symphony, Chardonnay, Orange Muscat, Gewürztraminer, Sauvignon Blanc and French Colombard. Sultry scents of orange blossom, musk and melon hint at a palate with the fresh flavors of lychee and tangerine. Full-bodied and alluring, the wine finishes with a satisfying spicy note.

Complete with seven different grapes, Seven Daughters Red Winemaker’s Blend is a sophisticated mélange of Syrah, Merlot, Zinfandel, Carignane, Sangiovese, Cabernet Franc and Cabernet Sauvignon. The bouquet displays blackberry and pepper, supported by subtle notes of lavender and vanilla. After an exuberant palate of red fruit, including dried cherries, the wine finishes with a touch of spice. Both blends take cues from today’s hottest culinary trends which feature healthy, fresh and more vibrantly spiced food. Seven Daughters Winemaker’s Blends pair well with a variety of foods and are perfect for casual entertaining or a night in with friends. The blends deliciously complement a wide range of cuisines including grilled meats, seafood, Latin cuisine, Sushi and Asian fusion.

Cocktail theme this month is Absolut Vodka and chocolate

Chocolate Martini Lite

1 oz Absolut® vodka
 1 oz creme de cacao
 1 1/2 oz milk
 1/2 chunk chocolate mint

While chilling a cocktail glass, shake vodka, creme de cacao, and milk. Pour into the chilled cocktail glass over 1/2 chunk of mint chocolate candy, and serve.

Chocolate Covered Martini

1 1/2 oz Absolut® vodka
 1/2 oz Godiva® chocolate liqueur
 1/2 oz vanilla schnapps

Chill cocktail glass. Mix Vodka, Godiva, and Vanilla Schnapps. Stir, do not shake. Place single cherry with stem in chilled cocktail glass. Strain over cherry.
