Wine On Focus – Majella The Musician

Though it has been rated 90+ points by wine journals, the point system does a wine like this an injustice. This wine is for the sheer pleasure of drinking, not dissecting or pondering. The Lynn family has vigilantly planted vines from the late 1960's and early 1970's, to finally making their own wines in 1991. The key to the quality of their fruit is that they are on the east side of the "Coonawarra strip" and have soils that offer better drainage than the more clay-based soils to the west. Majella the Musician is a blend of 70% Cabernet and 30% Shiraz with a perfumed nose of red current, blackberry, mulberry, a "French Grave"-like tobacco leaf note and a hint of mineral. But this wine is truly it is all about sexy rich fruit delicately kissed by oak and wrapped up in a chocolatey veneer. The soft, silky tannins slide around the mouth (and down the throat) with insane ease. This delicious wine is a great tribute to the Lynn family's youngest son, Matthew, who was tragically killed not too long ago. To the Musician!
